MEMORANDUM FOR: Executive Director-Comptroller

SUBJECT : JCS-DIA Orientation No. 11 (2-69)
29-30 April 1969

1. Paragraph 5 of this memorandum suggests action on the part of the Executive Director-Comptroller.
2. In late 1963, the Director of Central Intelligence requested that the Agency provide an orientation to explain the mission and functions of the Agency to senior military officers and civilians of the Department of Defense assigned to key positions in the local metropolitan area. Since February 1964 a two-day orientation -- now known as "The JCS-DIA Orientation" has been conducted semi-annually in response to the Director's request. In November 1965 the DIA initiated a similar type of orientation for representatives of the Intelligence Community, with the majority of students being Agency officials. (DIA refers to their two-day orientation as Project HELPFUL; the Agency continues to have a Project USEFUL, a one- or two-week program designed primarily for representatives of the Unified and Specified Commands, as well as for selected individuals from CONUS elements.)
3. Following the tenth running of the JCS-DIA Orientation on 20 and 21 November 1968 -- in which the Director and the Executive Director-Comptroller participated (see attached schedule) -- students again expressed warm appreciation for these special two-day briefings and for their value to senior Defense Department personnel in the local area having liaison or other contacts with the Agency.
4. In view of the continuing interest of, and benefit to, the Department of Defense we are scheduling the eleventh running of the two-day program -- the JCS-DIA Orientation No. 2-69 -- to take place at Headquarters on Tuesday and Wednesday, 29-30 April 1969.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Lieutenant General Joseph F. Carroll, USAF
 Director, Defense Intelligence Agency
 Room 3E258, The Pentagon
 Washington, D. C. 20301

SUBJECT : Scheduling of Key Personnel for JCS-DIA Orientation Program

1. Pursuant to arrangements discussed with [ ] of your staff, the Central Intelligence Agency is offering another of its JCS-DIA Orientation Programs on Tuesday and Wednesday, 29 and 30 April 1969, at our Headquarters Building, Langley.

2. This will be the eleventh presentation of this special two-day program of briefings. The program is conducted semi-annually to provide key Department of Defense officers with a better understanding of the mission, organization, and functions of the Central Intelligence Agency. The briefings will be given at Headquarters from 0830 to 1600 hours on both days.

3. We are assigning 30 spaces for key officers and civilians you may wish to send from the Defense Intelligence Agency, whose assignments may warrant their having a better comprehension of the duties and responsibilities of this Agency and its personnel. An outline of information which we would appreciate your providing the CIA Director of Training for each of your nominees and alternates is attached to this memorandum.
